

The town of Squawksville is out "in the middle of nowhere." Each person in the town owns a large yard, and there are miles and miles of parks, trails, and open spaces. Many people in Squawksville moved away from the city for more space and freedom.

Since the people of Squawksville have so much space, and their neighbors are so far away, many people like having pets. Recently, there have been some strange reports of small cats being swooped away by large birds, missing deer in the forest, and ostriches peeking into local schools. You are responsible for creating a law about pets.

For each animal (eagle, lion, dolphin, elephant, monkey, and ostrich) decide if the pet should be ALLOWED, be ALLOWED with RESTRICTIONS, or BANNED. Please explain your thinking for each animal.
