

POLIS

The REDS, YELLOWS, and BLUES are the three political parties of Polis. Each citizen of Polis belongs to a party, and for this generation at least, political affiliations almost never change. The secondary colors (orange, green, and purple) represent neighborhoods equally divided between their primary color parents.

The government of Polis has five elected representatives entrusted with absolute executive and legislative power. Please draw the boundaries for each DISTRICT in a way that is ethically sound.

Please consider the power of a single vote, the type of political climate you want to create, the interests of Polis, its people, and its future.
